Caltrain to Operate Bus Bridge 11/7/15

Caltrain will operate a bus bridge between its Hayward Park and Burlingame stations Nov. 7, 2015 to accommodate the replacement of the 100-year old Tilton Avenue rail bridge.

Customers traveling through San Mateo will be required to board buses between the Hayward Park and Burlingame stations.

The use of buses to connect the trains will require Caltrain to alter its train schedule for the entire day. Northbound trains will operate on the current Saturday schedule until they reach Hayward Park, and southbound trains will use the current schedule until they reach Burlingame. The new schedule is also posted online: www.caltrain.com/busbridge.

The bus bridge will be provided by SamTrans so Caltrain customers should look for the red, white and blue buses when they get to the station. Ambassadors also will be on hand to assist customers. Note: There will be limited capacity for luggage and bikes on the buses.

Caltrain will have ambassadors at the impacted stations to assist and direct customers to the bus bridge.

Caltrain will use the same process for the remaining three rail bridges to be replaced. The next bus bridge is tentatively scheduled for December. The date will be finalized in mid-November.

For more information on the bridge replacement project, visit www.caltrain.com/smbridges.
