Safety Highlights

The Holiday Train seems to get better yearly and the crowds seem to be bigger year after year. What doesn’t change is detail to safety and security.

Safety barriers separate audience from the train

With so many children attending the show at the Caltrain stations, establishing a gap between the train and the audience facilitates safeguarding of children. Especially when Santa Claus comes off the train, children tend to want to get closer.

Santa Claus steps off train and draws attention

The Caltrain Ambassadors and Train Crew members keep a watchful eye so no one gets too close to the train prior to departure and on its way to the next station stop.

Santa is a crowd pleaser

One never knows when a Safety Officer may have been keeping a watchful eye from within the train or may have been in disguise out with the audience.

At Caltrain, safety and security of all our wonderful patrons is always a priority.
