PUBLIC COMMENT
Pat Giorni, Burlingame, said as of September 18, there have been 212 bike bumps. This is a very critical issue. She said the BAC should try to convince staff and the Board to convert many of the new rail cars to bike cars. This problem can’t wait until electrification.

CALTRAIN MODERNIZATION PROGRAM – PRESENTATION ON ELECTRIC MULTIPLE UNITS (EMU) – Dave Couch
David Couch, Director, Project Delivery, presented:
- Staff cannot complete the process and go forward with a contract until environmental clearance is reached.
- Status
  - April – Joint Powers Board (JPB) updated on EMU procurement process
  - May – Request For Information (RFI) issued
  - June – Industry responses and meetings with car builders

  Chair Garrett Turner arrived at 5:53 p.m.

- Engagement
  - Eleven car builders contacted
    - Four have off-the-shelf models
    - Three participated in the June meeting
    - Staff anticipates two to four car builders will propose in Request for Proposals (RFP)
• Staff informed car builders Caltrain’s issues and needs:
  o Maximize car capacity
    ▪ Growing demand – ridership today is over 55,000, future demand will be over 100,000.
    ▪ Today, trips are over 20 miles, weekday capacity peaks at 95 to 125 percent, with 11 percent bikes onboard.
    ▪ In the future, Caltrain will share train slots with high-speed rail (HSR) and will have six Caltrain trains and four HSR trains per hour per direction. Caltrain needs to maximize car capacity and service frequency.

• Industry confirmation – car builders state that to maximize capacity per vehicle:
  o Stick with bi-level EMU
  o Off-the-shelf available
  o Twenty-two to 24 inch floor threshold
  o US regulation compliance
    ▪ Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA)
    ▪ Buy America
    ▪ Federal Railroad Administration (FRA) waiver/alternative compliant vehicles criteria
    ▪ Will meet Caltrain technical and quality standards

• Discussion topics with the public:
  o Consist length
  o Seats and standees
  o Bikes onboard
  o Bathrooms

• Station platform implications:
  o Previous discussions have taken place
  o Current status:
    ▪ No level boarding
    ▪ Eight inch above top of rail
    ▪ Use mini-highs and lifts
    ▪ Supports freight and passenger cars
  o Moving forward
    ▪ Dedicated platforms
      ▪ Capitol Corridor and Altamont Corridor Express (ACE) at two stations, Amtrak at one station, HSR at three stations
    ▪ Different Caltrain EMUs and HSR trains
    ▪ EMUs compatible with existing system

• Challenges for level boarding:
  o Conflicting California Public Utilities Commission and ADA requirements.
  o If 25 or 50 inch height is selected, Caltrain would need a waiver.
  o Potential impacts to historic stations.
  o Construction while system is in operation will be a major challenge.
  o Making the transition will be expensive.
  o Caltrain would have to find a way to enable trains to operate at different heights because it can’t change all platforms at the same time.

• Stakeholders:
  o Boards and elected officials
Amitabha Banerjee asked if there is a possibility of having more than five cars per train. Mr. Couch said six is the most that can be done at this point until electrification. In the future, there is a possibility of extending the length of the trains, but it would require lengthening the platforms.

Steve Vanderlip asked if all the cars will be passenger cars. Mr. Couch said there will be two vehicles with engines on each set, but there will be space in those cars for seats, bathrooms, bikes, or a combination.

Mr. Brinsfield asked how many responses there have been to the survey. Mr. Couch said there have been more than 2,000 responses.

Mr. Brinsfield asked if the seats could be moved closer together as ridership goes up. Mr. Couch said it is a tradeoff and depends on the manufacturer and how the seats are installed.

Mr. Banerjee said it seems like there will not be more bike capacity and asked if a goal could be to retain the current capacity with new fleet. Mr. Couch said it is part of the mix and is a balance point to consider. He said it is up to the will of the customers and judgment of Board to keep or increase capacity.

Mr. Banerjee asked if the main input comes from the survey. Mr. Couch said it is from the survey tempered by what the builders can do and then the judgment of the Board.

Mr. Brinsfield asked if anything would be impacted or if the configuration would change if HSR did not happen. Mr. Couch said no, HSR will have a different vehicle.

Public Comment
Pat Giorni, Burlingame, said if there is no HSR there will not be money to pay for electrification. She said the planning should be for 20 percent bicycle capacity. She said every car should be equipped to carry bicycles. She said seats should be cantilevered and high enough to put luggage or a folding bike under the seat. She said there are no bathrooms at stations, but the plumbing and sewage is still in place so bathrooms should be installed at stations.

BICYCLE ACCESS AND PARKING PLAN (BAPP) – NEXT STEPS – Sebastian Petty

Sebastian Petty, Senior Planner, said he will come back to the BAC on a regular schedule to talk about how projects have been prioritized and reprioritized, updates on grants, and to get input on whether new projects should be added.

John Brazil said it would be good to have a place holder for the next meeting in case someone has a major issue after reading this document.

Mr. Petty said in 2008, Caltrain created a BAPP focusing on the wayside aspects of Caltrain’s bike system including bike parking, how bicyclists get to the station, safety, way finding, etc. The BAPP focused on the 10 highest ridership stations. Since then, there has been limited progress implementing many improvements recommended in the plan, but during that time a second bike car was added to each train. He said as staff moved forward they realized in addition to onboard capacity, wayside facilities had to be addressed. The BAPP discusses progress to date, items that have been completed, items in progress and changes that would now make some of the ideas no longer relevant. He said the document discusses the process defined to look at the recommendations and sort them into pathways that could be moved forward. Caltrain-led projects have cost estimations included, which totals up to about $3.5 million. The document then discusses how staff would go about prioritizing the projects and seek funds, and how the process gets implemented.

AD HOC COMMITTEE REPORTS

Bike Bump Reporting – Dan Provence

Mr. Provence said the reporting form includes an explanation about bikes onboard, the number of bike spaces on cars, the growth of ridership, and what information to provide if bumped. He said the group will add the phrase, “We regret you were not allowed to board” to the top of the form. He said Mr. Banerjee looked into making this form a Google form so it would be linked to Twitter and help make the information available to the public faster.

Tasha Bartholomew, Community Relations Officer, said a newer version will be made available at the next meeting. She said Mr. Banerjee created a template and it is being tested. Once the language is agreed upon, then staff can link the form to the Caltrain website and the information will be tweeted out. She said she would like to see this form published by this fall.

Chair Turner asked if the data would be available for people to run analytical reports. Mr. Banerjee said it is just like a spreadsheet and can be done and he is ready to help.

Mr. Brinsfield said the person reporting the bump will have a place to go to look at the data so they will feel their input is valued.

Mr. Brazil suggested moving the explanatory paragraphs to the bottom after the form.
Mr. Vanderlip asked if this would be recorded somewhere for the public to see. Mr. Brinsfield said that is what he was suggesting. Anyone would be able to go to the website and see the history, graphs, etc.

Mr. Banerjee asked what is holding this up. Ms. Bartholomew said she would like the committee to meet one more time and post a draft by the next meeting.

Mr. Brinsfield said he would like to see a beta test or a dummy site and what it would look like on a smart phone.

Chair Turner asked if there is any tracking within Caltrain on when bike cars are full and announced on the visual message signs. April Maguigad, Manager, Rail Operations, said the reporting is not consistent and only happens when the conductors make the effort. She said the reporting is not uniform across all conductors.

Mr. Provence asked what the procedure is to get the message on the sign that a bike car is full. Ms. Maguigad said there is not currently a formal process, but there are some conductors who are more conscientious about it.

Public Comment
Pat Giorni, Burlingame, said she redacts the e-mail addresses on her reports, but the JPB prints correspondence however it is received, including e-mail addresses. She asked where the reports will go. She said she sends the bike bumps that she tracks to the Board, the CAC, the BAC, other local bike groups, and hundreds of people. She said she wants this information to stay public and go to the Board and the CAC and BAC.

Chair Turner said the goal is for this to be made public and to be published on the Caltrain website.

Mr. Banerjee said this information will be tweeted out immediately and the account will have a history of all tweets.

Bike Capacity – Steve Vanderlip
Mr. Vanderlip said the ad hoc committee discussed the top ideas from the list that was submitted at a previous meeting:
- Allow more bikes per rack instead of the current standard of four. Staff is reviewing this idea and discussing it with FRA.
- Add third bike car to existing trains. This is not a change Caltrain can support due to capacity with seated passengers and other issues.
- Six-car trains. One of the reasons for the purchase of new cars is to add a car to each train, but it is primarily for adding seating capacity. Staff is discussing how to implement the cars and whether bike capacity can or will be added.
- Changing luggage racks to have more cubby holes to accommodate more folding bikes. The committee discussed conducting a survey to find out if customers would use folding bikes more often if they were easier to use.

Mr. Brazil said there are space efficiencies for using folding bikes. He said adding a fifth bike to the bike racks and adding a third bike car could result in about a 100 percent increase in bikes onboard, but over the long term, Caltrain needs a 1,000 percent increase in capacity. He said the BAC should encourage policy makers to plan for the long term.

Public Comment
Pat Giorni, Burlingame, said with a third bike car, it would take away a net of 160 seats, which is not a lot considering there will be 1,600 seats added, and would help make capacity consistent between the different train sets. She said asking people to buy folding bikes is not cost effective because they are expensive.

Adina Levin, Menlo Park, said the real reason people use bikes in this area is because their first or last destination is farther away than walking distance from Caltrain stations.

Timetables/Schedules – Jesse Quirion
Chair Turner said this committee did not meet so he would like to leave the ad hoc committee open so the BAC can get an idea on the process for creating train schedules. Ms. Maguigad said the October changes are mostly due to the construction project.

Chair Turner said the committee would like to work with staff before the next schedule change.

CHAIRPERSON’S REPORT – Garrett Turner
2014 Work Plan update
Chair Turner said the Alameda Bikes Update has been moved to November and BAPP recommendations has been added to November. He said the 2015 calendar and the election of officers will be in November.

STAFF REPORT – Tasha Bartholomew
Ms. Bartholomew reported:
- A new BAC member will be in place by the next meeting.
- BAC recruitment opens November 3.

Mr. Brinsfield said elections are in November and because of the open seats the committee might not know who is electable. He said he would like to consider moving the election until January when the seats are filled. Josh Averill, Assistant District Secretary, said the Charter states the elections are to be done in November, but the committee can postpone the elections if they want to.

Chair Turner said the committee should consider making a change to the Charter to make sure all nine members have an opportunity to run to be chair or vice chair. This problem will come up every year. He said he would like to agendize a discussion on the charter change for November and postpone the elections until January.

Ms. Bartholomew continued:
- Chair Turner will be an actor in the Bikes Onboard Video. The launch date will be October 3.
Public Comment
Pat Giorni, Burlingame, asked if she could submit a letter of support for the BAC members who reapply for the committee. Ms. Bartholomew said it wouldn’t hurt.

Adina Levin, Menlo Park, said the bike video should include anti-best practices to show people what not to do.

Mr. Brazil said only bike users will watch this video, so anti-best practices would need to be on a general video.

WRITTEN CORRESPONDENCE
Mr. Brinsfield said he is amazed at how well the system is doing given the number of bikes.

COMMITTEE REQUESTS
Chair Turner said a 75th anniversary event is scheduled for October 18 at NASA Ames Research Center and they are expecting 250,000 people. They are not allowing many cars. Ms. Maguigad said staff is aware of it and have been planning for several months.

Mr. Brazil said there is an event on September 29 about HSR. He asked for more information.

Public Comment
Adina Levin, Friends of Caltrain, said Mr. Brazil is referring to an opportunity for questions and answers and for people to weigh-in on the rail car issues concerning bikes, bathrooms, standing room, and extra attention on platform height and HSR compatibility questions.
