Dear Chair Pine and Board members,

The intent of this letter is to substantiate and elaborate on the comments I made at the Finance Committee about the unsustainability of the TASI contract.

Background:

The JPB awarded the initial 5-year TASI contract in 2011. The following table shows that the annual cost (in thousands) of the contract increased by 65% over 8 years:

It is unclear why Caltrain needs to train 118 employees to "install, maintain, repair, modify, inspect and test the PTC system" given that this work is currently being performed by Wabtec. It is also unclear why SamTrans recently spent $21M of Caltrain farebox revenue bonds on the acquisition of two Menlo Park buildings to house these employees.

Please consider these factors when assessing Caltrain’s forthcoming operating budget.

Thank You.

Hi Patrice,

Is there any reason why the JPB CAC cannot be held via conference call or webinar, as the High-Speed Rail Authority is doing with its upcoming SF-SJ Community Working Group meetings as shown in the forwarded email message I've pasted immediately below?

Numerous other bodies are also moving to conference call or webinar meeting formats to avoid exposing participants and members of the public to possible COVID-19 infection. This way the business of these groups can go on and important issues connected to the COVID-19 pandemic can be discussed (e.g. employee and rider safety measures, plummeting ridership and fare revenues and possible service changes).

BART ridership has was down 8% last week, 20% on Monday, 30% on Tuesday and 35% on Wednesday. BART director Janice Li has said this may translate to $3.5m in fare revenue loss per week.

To my knowledge, Caltrain officials have not yet released any formal or informal quantification of obvious ridership declines. However, based on first-hand observations, anecdotal reports and photos of lightly-loaded trains and emptier parking lots posted to social media, Caltrain ridership may have suffered comparably. And like BART, Caltrain is an essentially fixed-cost operation which covers the lion's share of its operating costs with fare revenues ... so any substantial and/or sustained drop in ridership has serious budgetary implications, and raises questions of whether cut service (and if so, when and where), or cover the revenue shortfall with reserves and/or increased partner agency contributions, emergency funding grants, or some combination thereof.

We have no idea how long the COVID-19 crisis and associated "social distancing" recommendations will last, so it would be good to see about how best Caltrain operations and meetings can carry on as scheduled.

Kind regards,
Adrian Brandt

2. When you are ready to join the webinar, open the RingCentral Meetings app. Click the “Join a Meeting” button. You should not create an account or sign in.
3. The app will prompt you to enter a Meeting ID (10-digit number) and your screen name. Please enter your first and last name.
4. We will not be using videoconference in this meeting – only screen sharing – so please do not turn on your video.
5. Click “Join” to enter the meeting.
6. You can join the webinar audio via your computer (test that your microphone works) or by calling in separately via phone.
7. To join the conference line using your phone, dial the conference number (773-231-9226). You will be prompted to enter the same 10-digit Meeting ID, followed by #. You will then be prompted to enter an optional participant ID (two-digit number followed by #). You can find your participant ID in the webinar window. The participant ID links your webinar screen name to your phone line in the list of webinar participants, but you will be able to join the webinar and phone line without it.

Participating in the webinar

1. Please keep your devices on mute when you are not speaking. This ensures the best possible audio quality for all participants.
2. If you have a question or comment, please use the “raise your hand” function. This alerts the host that you would like to speak. To do so, open the participants tab, then click on the “raise hand” button. Alternatively, you can also send a message to the host using the webinar chat.
3. When it is your turn to speak, the host will unmute you and call on you to share your comment or question.
4. Disruptive participants will be removed from the meeting.
5. Public comment will be accepted at the end of the webinar. Members of the public who wish to make verbal comment should use the “raise your hand” function, alert the host via webinar chat, or email mbday@kearnswest.com.

Webinar Ground Rules

- Be respectful
- Be patient
- Keep your devices on mute unless you are speaking
- Only one person speaks at a time
- If you would like to speak:
  - Please “raise your hand” or
  - Send a message via webinar chat

As an example of issues and questions Caltrain may also be facing, I share the following SF Chronicle article:

BART mulls emergency plan to deal with pandemic. Could trains shut down?

BART is dusting off an emergency plan to deal with a pandemic — and among the possible actions are reducing service or shutting down the trains.

“That would only be a last resort for BART,” said Jim Allison, an agency spokesman. “We are an essential service. We know that many people can’t work from home and that they have no other choice than to use public transportation.”

The agency has long kept contingency plans in case of an earthquake, terrorist attack, pandemic or other grave disaster. It includes staffing recommendations if the rail system is directed to run fewer trains, as well as a procedure to bring trains into the yard and secure the stations. It also includes a protocol for delivering information to riders in real time.

BART officials update it every couple of years, revising contact information or removing names of people who have left the agency, spokeswoman Alicia Trost said.

Though top transit agency staff have been discussing the plan for two weeks, it currently has no intention to cut back service or stop running trains. She stressed that these last-ditch measures have nothing to do with the ridership losses BART has experienced as cities cancel events and more people work from home.

A shutdown or service reduction would kick in only if several operators get sick, or if Gov. Gavin Newsom requires transit agencies to stop operating, Trost said. The agency has set up a task force that communicates daily with local, state and federal officials, then reports back to BART’s employees, General Manager Bob Powers said Thursday.

“This is sensitivity thinking — you know, ‘what if’ thinking,” Powers told the BART Board of Directors.

“We’re looking at all of the potential scenarios — we call them ‘triggers’ — both internally and externally, that could impact the level of service that we provide,” said Tamar Allen, the assistant general manager of operations.

An “external trigger” would be an order from the state to reduce service, she said. An “internal trigger” would be operators unable to come to work, either because of illness, quarantine or schools closing.
Allen said BART managers are meeting with the agency’s labor unions to discuss these scenarios. John Arantes, president of the union that represents mechanics and clerical workers, said he will join one of those meetings Friday.

“"My members continue to come to work, to keep the system going,” he said in an interview Thursday night. “Yes, we’re concerned.”

In a separate interview with The Chronicle, Powers emphasized BART’s commitment to stay open and keep the trains running.

“We are running at full service, and there is no plan to deviate from that full service,” he said. “If we are directed (to cut service) by the governor or medical professionals, then we need to be ready for that. So we are thinking it through.”

Board President Lateefah Simon said she’s also determined to keep the trains running.

“Everyone needs to be thinking about worst-case scenarios,” she said. “But we still have a lot of people who need to catch the train to get to work. And I’m one of them. I’ll be on the 8:23 a.m. train from Richmond on Friday morning.”

BART is losing up to $600,000 a day in fares from low ridership, a major blow for an agency that relies on fare revenue to cover 60% of its operating costs.

On Wednesday, the agency carried only 268,192 riders — a 35% drop from the average Wednesday in February. In addition to the losses, the transportation agency is paying for extra cleanings, hand sanitizer dispensaries in all 48 stations, and other protections against the coronavirus.

Despite its plummeting revenue, the agency is running 10-car trains during commute periods, which gives people ample space to move around and sit by themselves if they choose. Public health officials are encouraging “social distancing” as a way to avoid spreading the coronavirus.

Just weeks ago, riders stood elbow-to-elbow in packed rush-hour trains. Now, the crowds have thinned, and even the parking lots are empty. Although Newsom’s call to cancel gatherings with 250 people or more doesn’t apply to mass transit, it wouldn’t matter anyway, General Manager Bob Powers said in a statement. Passengers can always stand at arm’s length these days.

JOINT POWERS AGREEMENT
PENINSULA CORRIDOR PROJECT

This Agreement is made and entered into this 3rd day of October, 1996, by and between the Santa Clara County Transit District, dba Santa Clara Valley Transportation Authority ("SCCTD" or "SCVTA"), the City and County of San Francisco ("CCSF"), and the San Mateo County Transit District ("SamTrans") (collectively referred to herein as "Member Agencies").

RECITALS

WHEREAS, in 1988, SCCTD, CCSF and SamTrans entered into a Joint Powers Agreement (the "1988 Agreement") creating the Peninsula Corridor Study Joint Powers Board ("JPB") pursuant to Title 1, Division 7, Chapter 5, Article I (§6500 et seq.) of the California Government Code, for the purpose of conducting planning studies related to the Peninsula Commute Service ("PCS"); and

WHEREAS, based upon the planning studies and other activities conducted by the JPB, including, among other things, the negotiation of an agreement to acquire the full corridor right-of-way owned by Southern Pacific Transportation needed for operation and future expansion of the PCS, the parties determined that it would be beneficial to residents of their respective counties that the purposes and powers of the JPB be expanded to enable the JPB to plan, oversee and operate the PCS following... transfer of the system assets from the State of California to local control; and

WHEREAS, such planning, oversight, and operation of the PCS required the maintenance and improvement of the Southern Pacific Right of Way and related system assets, as well as the application for and obtainment of State and federal funding; and

WHEREAS, in 1991 SCCTD, CCSF and SamTrans amended and restated in its entirety the 1988 Joint Powers Agreement to reflect their expanded objectives and executed a Joint Powers Agreement dated August 18, 1991 ("1991 Agreement"); and

WHEREAS, the 1991 Agreement provided for the allocation among the parties of the administrative, capital and operating expenses attendant to ownership of the Peninsula Corridor right-of-way ("ROW") and operation of the PCS; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to an Amendment adopted on November 3, 1994, the JPB amended the 1991 Agreement to modify the basis for allocation of administrative and capital costs among the parties and to effect certain other related changes to the 1991 Agreement ("1994 Amendment"); and

WHEREAS, SCTVA has proposed further revisions to the 1991 Agreement pertaining to SCTVA’s powers to appoint representatives to the JPB; and

WHEREAS, the parties now desire to restate the 1991 Agreement as amended by the 1994 Amendment to include SCTVA’s proposed revisions.

SCVTA shall be responsible for all net operating costs of the Gilroy Service based upon the fully allocated cost methodology.

B. Capital Projects

The JPB and the Member Agencies shall use their best efforts to fully fund from state, Federal and JPB Proposition 116 resources, capital projects contained in the approved capital budget. If approved by Member Agencies pursuant to Section 5(D),
Member Agencies shall share in the remaining costs of capital projects according to the following guidelines: Proposed capital projects shall be categorized in the capital-program process as being designed to replace, enhance or expand PCS assets. Costs of capital replacement and enhancement projects that are not covered by outside funding sources shall be shared equally by the Member Agencies. Furthermore, Member Agencies shall support the equal sharing of Federal funding for replacement and enhancement projects with the understanding that the method for allocating the Federal funds will be reviewed by the Metropolitan Transportation Commission Regional Transit Coordinating Council Finance Committee. Cost allocation among the JPB members for expansion projects such as the downtown terminal relocation, the Gilroy Service and the Bayshore Corridor Service shall be determined on a case-by-case basis. SCVTA shall assume full responsibility for obtaining funding for all Gilroy Service capital projects.

In addition to the costs for capital projects to be shared by the Member Agencies as provided in this Section 7.B, on an annual basis the JPB shall determine an amount to be contributed by the Member Agencies into a capital contingency fund to cover unanticipated, necessary capital improvements. Each Member Agency shall contribute an equal share of this capital contingency fund.
C. JPB Administrative Costs

Expenses for personnel and resources of the Managing Agency to administer the affairs of the JPB, including the administration of the operating contract, shall be shared by the Member Agencies based on the a.m. boarding formula as provided in Section 7.A above.

Actual contributions shall be paid as and when they are due and owing. (iii) JPB Administrative Costs. Administrative costs of the JPB shall be billed by the Managing Agency and paid by the Member Agencies on a monthly basis.

(iv) Late Payments. Member Agencies who fail to pay or who are delinquent in any financial commitment hereunder shall be assessed interest charges based on the Managing Agency’s average rate of return on its investment portfolio.
E. Duration.

All allocations of expenses and costs established in this Section 7 shall be subject to re-evaluation during the JPB’s 1998-1999 fiscal year. Any changes made as a result of this re-evaluation shall become effective during the fiscal year 1999-2000. In the event any allocation method is hereafter revised, any capital projects in progress at the time of the revision shall be carried to completion using the allocation methods in place at the time of the award of the construction/procurement contract for the capital project.

F. Covenant.

Each Member Agency hereby affirmatively covenants to the other Member Agencies henceforth to pay any and all financial obligations to the JPB promptly as and when such obligations become due and owing to the JPB as provided in Section 7 or otherwise in this Agreement.

G. Obligations of the City and County of San Francisco.

CCSF shall pay to the Managing Agency CCSF’s portion of the JPB start-up costs in the amount of $557,485.00, plus interest at the rate of seven percent (7%) per annum in accordance with the schedule of payments contained in Exhibit "A" attached hereto and incorporated herein by this reference. CCSF shall have the right to prepay its outstanding obligation, including accrued interest, at any time. In consideration for the foregoing, and provided that CCSF makes the payments provided for in Schedule A on a timely basis, the JPB shall waive its right to receive from CCSF interest on late payments made by CCSF for fiscal year 1993-94 financial obligations. The CCSF Board of Supervisors' representative on the JPB shall introduce legislation to approve CCSF's payment of the amounts referenced in this Paragraph 4, as well as to approve all other revisions of the 1991 Agreement contained in this Agreement, within sixty (60) days following JPB's action approving the 1994 Amendment to the 1991 Agreement. This Agreement is subject to the budget and fiscal provisions of the Charter of CCSF. Charges will accrue only after appropriation of funds by CCSF's Board of Supervisors and after prior written authorization certified by CCSF's Controller, and the amount of CCSF's obligation hereunder shall not at any time exceed the amount appropriated and certified for the purpose and period stated in such advance authorization.

Dear Chair Peskin and Commissioners,

I hope that this email finds you and yours in good health.

Please allow me to start by congratulating you for bringing some long overdue regional oversight to the DTX project.

The only change to the MOU that I would recommend for your consideration is that you strike section 7 on page 6
7. NEPA/CEQA: Any recommendations regarding modifications to the DTX resulting from the work under the MOU is intended to be consistent with and not require any material modification of the existing DTX NEPA/CEQA documentation.

for the following reasons:
- This clause effectively blocks any further development of the 7th Street alignment which is counterproductive given:
  - The current committed DTX funding envelope of $1B
  - A recent verbal quote for LESS THAN $1B FOR A COMBINED DTX/PAX

- The COVID-19 Great Recession is expected to accelerate emerging CEQA reform legislation

- The FRA recently assigned NEPA responsibility to the California High Speed Rail Authority, one of the 5 MOU partners

- The combined DTX/PAX $5B saving could be rerouted to other critical projects such as the Central Subway extension and the new Transbay rail crossing.

With regards to transparency, I would like to recommend that the Executive Steering Committee (ESC) meetings be open to the public.

Last but not least, I wish that there had been an opportunity for CAC members to voice their opinion on the agreement, including their long-standing interest in further studies of the 7th Street alignment.

Sincerely,

Roland Lebrun
