M. TITLE VI EQUITY ANALYSES

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 prohibits discrimination on the basis of race, color, and national origin in programs and activities receiving federal financial assistance. JPB, which operates Caltrain's fixed-rail service in San Francisco County, San Mateo County, and Santa Clara County, has committed to the Federal Transit Administration (FTA) Title VI objectives set forth in Circular 4702.1B ensuring that FTA-assisted benefits and related services are made available and are equitably distributed without regard to race, color, or national origin. JPB must conduct periodic compliance assessments to determine whether its services are provided in a nondiscriminatory manner consistent with the law. Normally JPB performs a self-assessment every three years or when it undertakes a significant service change or any fare change.

In the past three years, JPB has conducted two equity analyses: for a Proposed Fare Change to be effective FY 2012 and for another Proposed Fare Change to be effective FY 2013.

JPB Proposed Fare Change FY 2012

This assessment covered the Caltrain Proposed Fare Increase, developed in response to the Fiscal Year (FY) 2012 budgetary shortfall, which was to be implemented in July 2011 (FY 2012). JPB staff extensively reviewed various budget reduction proposals with the goal in mind to maximize revenue, achieve the best net cost savings, and minimize the impact on passengers. Based on the analysis, which included the Title VI process and review of all received public comments, JPB staff recommended increasing fares by $0.25 on the base, which would result in an anticipated net budget deficit reduction of $2 million. The report provided a summary of the fare change proposal and the analysis process and results. Public comments were influential in the removal of service changes from final consideration or adoption.

JPB staff analyzed available information from ridership surveys to determine whether minority and/or low-income riders are more likely to use the payment type or media that are subject to the potential fare changes and whether minority and/or low-income riders would experience a disparate impact.

Based on a quality of service analysis using 2010 Census and 2005-2009 American Community Survey data, staff found no disparate impacts on minority riders with the implementation of the proposed fare change.

However, the October 2010 Caltrain Onboard Survey found that in general, lower income riders rode shorter distances and purchased day-of tickets more than pre-paid tickets. Based on Caltrain's zonal fare structure, this difference could result in a disproportionate burden on low-income riders.

The Caltrain zonal fare structure provides for two fare increase options: a) increase on the base, which increases fares per zone by the same dollar amount; and b) increase on the zone where the increase is compounded the more zones traveled. Caltrain historically has been alternating between base and zone fare increases in order to minimize the effect on all riders. The last fare increase, implemented January 1, 2011, was a zone fare increase, with a base fare increase last implemented August 31, 2009. In addition, Caltrain historically has increased fares in $0.25 increments for simplicity for Caltrain riders purchasing tickets.

The Caltrain zonal fare structure was developed to accommodate Caltrain's open system (i.e. no fare gates at stations). However, the introduction of the Clipper Card, an electronic fare payment system, provided for an opportunity to reanalyze Caltrain's fare system. JPB would later reassess its fare structure taking into account Caltrain minority and low-income rider trip patterns and ticket type usage in the analysis and development of new options.

JPB Proposed Fare Change FY 2013

This assessment covered Caltrain's fare change proposal in the implementation and continued refinement of the smartcard based regional fare system called Clipper (previously TransLink). The main goals of most of the proposed changes were to increase Clipper market penetration and make it more user friendly. Based on analysis of the changes, including the Title VI analysis process and review of all received public comments, JPB staff recommended increasing paper ticket fares by $0.25 on the base, decreasing the discount offered with 8-ride tickets to 7.5 percent, increasing the cost of a GO Pass by $10 to $165 and adopting an increase in fares by $0.25 on the zone for paper tickets, if Clipper use did not sufficiently expand in one year. The proposal also included decreasing the validity period on 8-ride tickets to 30 days, lengthening the sales period for monthly passes to last until the 15th of each month (rather than the 9th) and setting the minimum level of GO Pass participation at $13,750 per calendar year for each employer. The majority of Caltrain riders would not see any increase in their fare, as the cost of monthly passes and one-way trips paid with e-cash on Clipper cards would remain the same. The following report provides a summary of the fare change proposal and the analysis process and results.

JPB staff analyzed available information from ridership surveys to determine whether minority and/or low-income riders were more likely to use the payment types or media that were subject to the potential fare changes and whether minority and/or low-income riders would experience a disparate impact.

Based on a quality of service analysis using 2010 Census and 2005-2009 American Community Survey data, staff found no disparate impacts on minority riders with the implementation of the proposed fare change.

However, the October 2010 Caltrain Onboard Survey found that in general, low income riders rode shorter distances and purchased day-of tickets at a much higher rate than non-low income riders. Proposals to increase paper One-way and Day Pass fares could result in a disproportionate burden on low-income riders.

A base increase was being sought because it is the lower increase of base versus zone increases. If the lower price increase to the base was not incentive enough to increase Clipper use, then the larger zone increase would take place in one year. In any case, the price increase to One-way tickets could be avoided by passengers completely through use of Clipper.

Caltrain staff engaged in an outreach program to low-income passengers, populations and communities. The goal of the outreach was to increase Clipper usage by low-income passengers so they could avoid the price increase to One-way fares.

Each PCJPB Title VI Equity Analysis conducted since the last submission of the 2010 PCJPB Title VI Compliance Report follows.

Caltrain
Title VI Equity Evaluation
Proposed Fare Change – FY 2012

As a federal grant recipient, the Peninsula Corridor Joint Powers Board (JPB), which operates Caltrain, is required to maintain and provide to the Federal Transit Administration (FTA) information on its compliance with Title VI regulations. At a minimum, it must conduct periodic compliance assessments to determine whether its services are provided in a nondiscriminatory manner consistent with the law. Normally the JPB performs a self-assessment every three years, or when it undertakes a change in its fares or a significant change in service. This assessment covers the Caltrain Proposed Fare Increase, developed in response to the Fiscal Year (FY) 2012 budgetary shortfall, which will be implemented in July 2011 (FY 2012).

JPB staff extensively reviewed various budget reduction proposals with the goal in mind to maximize revenue, achieve the best net cost savings, and minimize the impact on passengers. Based on the analysis, which included the Title VI process and review of all received public comments, JPB staff recommended increasing fares by $0.25 on the base, which would result in an anticipated net budget deficit reduction of $2 million.

The following report provides a summary of the fare change proposal and the analysis process and results. A map of the Caltrain system can be found in Attachment 1.

1.0 PROPOSAL

The final fare increase proposal was designed to assist Caltrain in addressing a projected budget shortfall through an increase in revenue.

JPB Staff had initially considered three service reduction options as well. These service options were:

- Changes to weekday service including reduction in the number of peak period trains and full or partial suspension of service at multiple stations.
- Full suspension of weekend service at eleven stations and full suspension of the weekend Tamien shuttle.
- Removal of off-peak and midday weekday service (48-train schedule).

The first two service change options listed above were subject to Title VI equity studies by staff and all three were discussed at Public Meetings or at the Public Hearing. The third option was not subject to a Title VI equity study because it was withdrawn from serious consideration earlier in the planning process.

Later in the planning process, due to a) a tentative financial agreement by Caltrain's three member agencies and the Metropolitan Transportation Commission (MTC) to lessen the need for service reduction; and b) public comments showing notable opposition, all service change proposals were removed from consideration and the operating hours, total number of trains per day, and stations served remain unchanged. As a result, the details and anticipated impacts of the service change proposals are not included in this Title VI Equity Evaluation report.

1.1 FARE CHANGE

The fare increase proposed for adoption by the JPB Board consisted of a 25-cent increase in base fares.

This fare change affects all fare types for Caltrain commuter rail service serving all JPB system stations. The resulting increase in One-way adult fares, depending on zones traveled, varies between 2.0% and 10.0%. Other fare categories would increase by corresponding percentages.

The fare proposal for all fare types is provided in Attachment 2-Fare Proposal.

2.0 EQUITY EVALUATION OF PROPOSED CHANGES

In order to comply with 49 CFR Part 21, grantees shall evaluate significant system-wide fare and service changes to determine whether those changes have a discriminatory impact. Agencies shall evaluate the impacts of fare and service changes using recommended equity evaluation procedures defined in circular FTA C 4702.1A, Chapter V, Section 4. A Title VI equity evaluation of the JPB's proposed change follows.

2.1 SERVICE AREA MINORITY AND LOW-INCOME POPULATIONS

Using 2010 Census data, the minority population in all three counties in the JPB service area is 2,037,359 people, or 61.6% of the total service area population. For the JPB equity evaluation procedure, the three-county average is used as the threshold in classifying stations as minority stations; any station located in an area with a minority population above the system-wide average is considered a "minority station." A station-by-station analysis reveals that 11 out of 31 stations in the service area are minority stations.

Note that the previous JPB procedure used the UMTA Circular 4702.1 definition of a minority transit route to define the minority status of Caltrain stations. The UMTA Circular 4702.1 defined a transit route as a minority transit route when 1/3 of the minority population along a transit route exceeded the total minority population in a service area. JPB applied this to its rail corridor by defining a station as a minority station when the population in a station area exceeded 1/3 of the total population in that area. However, the continued use of the 1/3 threshold with the 2010 US Census data resulted in only two stations being non-minority stations. Since California is unique in its high minority population, it was determined that using the three-county average as a threshold would be more contextually appropriate. JPB staff sought and received FTA approval of the new classification procedure and threshold.

A review of 2005-2009 American Community Survey data for low-income populations in the JPB service area shows that 21.8% of the population in all three counties is at or below two times the federal poverty level, which is the metropolitan planning organization's definition for low-income populations in the Bay Area. The three-county average for low-income populations is used as the threshold in classifying stations as low-income stations. A station-by-station analysis reveals that 16 out of 31 stations in the service area have recorded low-income populations above 21.8%. In addition, the October 2010 Caltrain Onboard Study found that 28% of riders have annual household incomes of less than $50K. A summary of ridership income distribution, as found in the October 2010 and 2007 onboard surveys, is provided in the table below.

As allowed under Circular 4702.1A, Caltrain continues to define a rail system station service area as follows:

- (i) for rail systems, the service area shall consist of a circle with a radius of $\frac{3}{4}$ of a mile around each station.
- (ii) At the end stations and other stations in outlying area, the entity may designate circles with radii of up to 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ miles as part of its service area, based upon circumstances.

The following table summarizes all Caltrain stations and their designations as minority or low-income based on 2010 U.S. Census race data and 2005-2009 American Community Survey income data. Additionally, maps provided in Attachment 3 – Minority and Low Income Maps graphically display low-income and minority census tracts and their proximity to Caltrain stations.

Income data – 2005-2009 American Communities Survey

2.2 ASSESS EFFECTS OF PROPOSED CHANGES ON MINORITY AND LOW-INCOME POPULATIONS

JPB staff has analyzed available information from ridership surveys to determine whether minority and/or low-income riders are more likely to use the payment type or media that are subject to the potential fare changes and whether minority and/or low-income riders would experience a disparate impact.

Based on a quality of service analysis using 2010 Census and 2005-2009 American Community Survey data, staff found no disparate impacts on minority riders with the implementation of the proposed fare change.

However, the October 2010 Caltrain Onboard Survey found that in general, lower income riders rode shorter distances and purchased day-of tickets more than pre-paid tickets. Based on Caltrain's zonal fare structure, this difference could result in a slight disparate impact on low-income riders.

2.2.1 Quality of Service

Following the FTA's recommended methodology, staff prepared quality of service analyses for the proposed fare change, which compared minority and non-minority station averages for travel time, total cost and cost per mile for the system's "Top Three Destinations" as defined by FTA to evaluate the potential effects of the fare change options.

The quality of service analyses showed that for the fare change proposal, the average cost per mile and total cost is consistently lower for minority populations than for non-minority populations. Therefore, implementing only a fare change without a service change would not have a disparate impact on minority or low-income communities.

The most recent demographic data provided by the 2010 US Census and the 2005-2009 American Community Survey indicates that, in the Caltrain system, low-income stations mostly correlate with minority stations. Attachment 4 – Quality of Service Analysis provides a summary of this analysis.

2.2.2 Fare Structure

JPB recognizes that due to Caltrain's zonal fare structure, a fare increase on the base would disproportionately impact riders based on a) distance traveled and b) ticket type. As seen in Attachment 2 – Fare Proposal, riders traveling within one zone see a 10% fare increase while riders traveling six zones see a ~2% increase. Prepaid media (Monthly Pass and 8-ride tickets) also see a slightly higher percent increase than day-of tickets (One-way and Day Pass tickets). However, these differences in percent increases are only seen when at the tenth-of-a-percent level of detail. The maximum difference between day-of tickets and prepaid tickets is for single-zone travel at 0.24%.

Data from the October 2010 Caltrain Onboard Study suggests that the base fare increase may have a slightly disproportionate impact on low-income riders. The data reveals that lower income riders are more likely to buy day-of tickets rather than prepaid tickets. For example, 61% of riders with annual income below $30,000 purchase day-of tickets versus 25% of riders making over $75,000 per year. The study also suggests that low-income riders are more likely to travel shorter distances. Riders making less than $30,000 per year on average ride ~11.7 stops per trip versus 14 stops per trip by riders making over $75,000 per year. However, the difference of 2.3 stops is not large enough to concretely indicate an increase in zones traveled, and therefore in travel cost.

The numbers for minorities versus non-minorities in regards to average stops traveled per trip and type of ticket purchased are relatively equal. Based on the 2010 study, the difference between minorities and non-minorities is less than 0.5 stops for distance traveled and less than 5% for ticket type. Therefore, the fare increase due to the fare structure does not appear to disproportionately impact minority riders.

Available alternatives and mitigations for the slight potential disparity vis-a-vis low-income riders are addressed in Section 3.2.

3.0 ALTERNATIVES TO, AND MITIGATION FOR, PROPOSED CHANGES

3.1 ASSESS ALTERNATIVES AVAILABLE FOR PEOPLE AFFECTED BY THE PROPOSED CHANGES

Alternative payment types and media are listed in Attachment 2 of this analysis. As stated above, the October 2010 Caltrain Onboard Study found that lower-income riders were more likely to both ride shorter distances and purchase One-way and Day Pass tickets.

JPB staff's analysis compared the fares paid currently and under the proposed changes and the other listed options. The analysis found no major discrepancies. In all cases prepaid fare media (i.e. Monthly Passes and 8-ride tickets) cost less than the corresponding cash fare for day-of One-way and Day Pass tickets.

For those passengers whose employers do not purchase the GO Pass due to that fare medium's price increase, the option to purchase individual tickets (One-way, Day-pass, 8-ride, Monthly) remains available.

3.2 MEASURES TO MINIMIZE, MITIGATE, OR OFFSET ADVERSE EFFECTS OF CHANGES ON IMPACTED POPULATIONS

As described in Section 2.2.2, low-income riders could possibly be slightly disproportionately impacted by the fare increase due to the zonal fare structure.

The Caltrain zonal fare structure provides for two fare increase options: a) increase on the base, which increases fares per zone by the same dollar amount; and b) increase on the zone where the increase is compounded the more zones traveled. Caltrain historically has been alternating between base and zone fare increases in order to minimize the effect on all riders. The last fare increase, implemented January 1, 2011, was a zone fare increase, with a base fare increase last implemented August 31, 2009. In addition, Caltrain historically has increased fares in $0.25 increments for simplicity for Caltrain riders purchasing tickets.

The Caltrain zonal fare structure was developed to accommodate Caltrain's open system (i.e. no fare gates at stations). However, the introduction of the Clipper Card, an electronic fare payment system, provides for an opportunity to reanalyze Caltrain's fare system. Per the request of the MTC, which is coordinating the Clipper service, JPB will be reassessing its fare structure and will be taking into account Caltrain minority and low-income rider trip pattern and ticket type usage in the analysis and development of new options.

4.0 PUBLIC OUTREACH AND INVOLVEMENT ACTIVITIES

The JPB's public participation process offers early and continuous opportunities for the public (including minorities and people with low incomes) to be involved in the identification of potential impacts of proposed transportation decisions.

Efforts to involve minority and low-income populations include both comprehensive measures and measures targeted at overcoming barriers that prevent such populations from effective participation in decision-making.

In this case, comprehensive measures employed by the JPB included placing public notices for the Public Hearing and the Public Meetings on the Caltrain website (see Attachment 5), in news releases (see Attachment 6), on trains (see Attachment 7), and at stations (see Attachment 8). The following Public Meetings were held:

- San Jose: February 14, 2011 at 7 p.m.
- San Francisco: February 16, 2011 at 6 p.m.
- San Carlos: February 17, 2011 at 6 p.m.
- Gilroy: February 17, 2011 at 6 p.m.

The Public Hearing was held on March 3, 2011 in San Carlos at the scheduled JPB Board meeting. In light of the public comments received at the public hearing and the April 7 scheduled JPB Board meeting, an additional special JPB board meeting was held on April 21, 2011 in San Carlos to further discuss the fare change option, as well as the service change options removed during the public process from consideration.

Measures taken to overcome linguistic, institutional, and cultural barriers that may prevent minority and low-income populations from participating in decision-making included: publishing the public hearing notice and public meeting notices in English and Spanish in newspapers of general circulation and various community newspapers. The official notice (see Attachment 5) included meeting location, time, and contact information for both the Public Hearing and Public Meetings. The notice was published in:

- Gilroy Dispatch on February 8th and 15th;
- El Observador on February 11th;
- San Francisco Daily Journal on February 9th and 14th;

- San Jose Post-record on February 9th and 14th; and
- San Jose Examiner on February 9th and 14th.

A notice for the special April 21 board meeting was also published in El Reportero on April 20th.

The notices also included directions for submitting oral and written comments through the Caltrain website, and via email and customer service center phone lines for those unable to attend the public hearing or public meetings. All such comments are entered in the public hearing record.

4.1 DISSEMINATION OF INFORMATION TO LIMITED ENGLISH PROFICIENT (LEP) PERSONS

The JPB's public participation process included measures to disseminate information on the proposed fare changes to LEP persons, as well as at public hearings and meetings.

Comprehensive measures employed by the JPB included publication of an English language ad in the Peninsula's major Spanish language paper, El Observador, the publication of a Spanish language ad in the El Reportero for the April 21 special board meeting, and including Spanish language information on all English notices. All Public Hearing and Public Meeting notices included Spanish language information. Also, as stated in the official notice, foreign language translation services are always available free of charge both for JPB Public Meetings and Public Hearings, by contacting the JPB via the contact information provided in the notice. Finally, the Caltrain Customer Service Center offers foreign language translation service via the AT&T language line, including for those wishing to provide oral comments on the fare and service proposal other than at the Public Hearing and Public Meetings

4.2 PUBLIC HEARING AND MEETING RESULTS

Over 2,500 comments were submitted by 1,571 people prior to and at the public hearing. Of these comments:

- 27 (1.04%) were against the fare increase;
- 173 (6.67%) were against the service change proposals;
- 215 (8.29%) were against the suspension of off-peak service as presented in the 48-train schedule;
- 151 (5.83%) were against the suspension of service at 11 stations for the proposed weekend service change;
- 173 (6.67%) were against the removal of Gilroy service as presented in the 48-train schedule; and
- 868 (33.49%) were against the suspension of service to either some or all of the identified stations.

A summary of the public comments is included as Attachment 9.

At the public hearing, 78 people made comments. Of these:

- 48 were against the elimination of service to at least one station;
- 10 were against the removal of Gilroy service;
- 7 supported the increase in fares;
- 6 were against the elimination of weekday trains; and
- 5 were against weekend service removal.

No Title VI-based comments concerning effects on minority or low-income populations, or requests for language translation, were received.

As discussed above, public comments were influential in the removal of service changes from final consideration or adoption.

Caltrain Faces $30M Budget Shortfall and Drastic Service Cuts

January 19, 2011

As Caltrain begins its budget process it faces a $30 million deficit and the prospect of drastic cuts to its service.

Under the current budget scenario, cuts could be as severe as a reduction in service to 48 trains that would operate only during the weekday commute. All other service would be eliminated including: weekday service outside the commute peak, weekend service and service south of the San Jose Diridon station. The schedule also would require the suspension of service at up to seven stations.

Caltrain is the only Bay Area transit system without a permanent, dedicated funding source such as a sales tax.

Instead the railroad has relied on contributions from its three partner agencies - the City and County of San Francisco, the San Mateo County Transit District and the Santa Clara Valley Transportation Authority – to balance its budget.

In Fiscal Year 2011, passenger fares make up around 44 percent of the operating budget and contributions from the partner agencies make up 34 percent.

"We are not saying that this is what we are going to do, or where we are going to end up," said Executive Officer for Public Affairs Mark Simon. "But this is where we are starting."

Caltrain currently operates 86 weekday trains, including 22 express trains, with an average ridership of 40,000. Saturday service includes 32 local trains and four express trains; Sunday service includes 28 local trains and four express trains.

Over the last few years, Caltrain has made aggressive efforts to reduce costs and maintain service.

For the last three fiscal years, salaries have been frozen. Employees will have taken a total of 17 furlough days from FY09 through FY11. Jan. 1, four weekday trains during the midday were eliminated and fares were increased 25 cents for each zone. In an effort to generate additional revenue, a pilot program for weekend Baby Bullet service was introduced.

In FY11, Caltrain administrative staff costs make up only 6.4 percent of its operating budget, below the rate at Bay Area and other comparable commuter rail agencies.

SamTrans is expected to reduce its annual contribution to Caltrain to approximately $4.7 million, a reduction of approximately $10 million. If the other partners follow suit, the budget shortfall is expected to be $30 million.

The Peninsula Corridor Joint Powers Board, which owns and operates Caltrain, will be asked to call for two public hearings, one on the proposed service changes and one to declare a fiscal emergency, at its Feb. 3 meeting. Four community meetings will be held throughout the Caltrain service area on Feb. 17, followed by a formal public hearing on March 3. A start date for any service changes has yet to be determined.

There is growing attention among community stakeholders to the need for a permanent, dedicated source of funding for Caltrain.

The Silicon Valley Leadership Group will hold a summit on Jan. 21 at Stanford University and the Friends of Caltrain, a grassroots group of Caltrain supporters, will hold a public meeting on Jan. 29 at the SamTrans offices in San Carlos.

Caltrain Sets Public Hearings: Proposed Service Reductions, Station Closures, Fare increases and Declaration of Fiscal Emergency

February 3, 2011

The Caltrain Board of Directors today set two public hearings to receive comments on possible service and fare changes, station closures as well as to declare a fiscal emergency.

Caltrain Executive Director Michael J. Scanlon called the board's action "the first step in the process" and said, "Hopefully, we will be able to come up with additional funding sources before we are forced to implement drastic service changes."

Operation of the current 86 train schedule would result in a $30 million deficit. With projected available funds, Caltrain would be forced to operate 48 trains only during weekday peak-commute hours. In addition, service would be suspended at up to seven of the following stations: Bayshore, South San Francisco, San Bruno, Burlingame, Hayward Park, Belmont, San Antonio, Lawrence, Santa Clara and College Park.

All other service would be eliminated, including weekday service outside the commute peak, service south of the San Jose Diridon station and weekend service.

Service for special events, including baseball games and Bay to Breakers, also would be suspended.

A 25-cent increase to the base fare also will be considered.

Caltrain's fiscal year begins July 1 and changes to service would take effect July 2.

The public hearings will be held at the March 3 Caltrain Board meeting at 10 a.m. at 1250 San Carlos Ave. in San Carlos.

In addition, four community meetings will be held throughout the Caltrain service area to give the public additional opportunity to review proposals, ask questions and provide comment.

Information about the proposed declaration of fiscal emergency and service and fare changes will be posted on the Caltrain website – www.caltrain.com - by Feb. 9.

Last year, SamTrans was forced to reduce its annual contribution to Caltrain. As a result, four midday trains were eliminated, staffed ticket offices were closed and zone fares were increased 25 cents.

This year, SamTrans is expected to reduce its annual contribution to Caltrain to approximately $4.8 million, a reduction of approximately $10 million. If the other partners follow suit, the budget shortfall is expected to be $30 million.

Caltrain Board Postpones Adoption of Reduced Train Schedule

April 7, 2011

The Caltrain Board of Directors today voted unanimously to postpone a decision on a reduced train schedule until April 21 and directed staff to work to identify additional funds that would make the cuts unnecessary.

Board members expressed the desire to make no cuts to the current 86-train schedule, which has achieved record-level ridership.

Director Adrienne Tissier, who also chairs the Metropolitan Transportation Commission, said she was "extremely frustrated" at the prospect of cutting the rail service. "The system is not broken, but we're looking today to break it. It is a model for a system that runs beautifully," said Tissier.

The service reductions are under consideration due to a projected $30 million deficit in Fiscal Year 2012.

The proposed 76-train schedule presented to the Board today offered significantly more service than an earlier 48-train schedule.

The vote to postpone a decision about service reductions followed a presentation about a recent annual ridership count, which showed Caltrain customers using the rail service at an all-time high. The count, conducted in February, shows average weekday ridership at 41,442, an increase of nearly 13 percent over last year.

A preliminary budget presentation at the meeting showed Caltrain can close its budget deficit under a 76-train schedule by using one-time-only funds.

To retain the current 86-train schedule Caltrain would need an additional $3.5 million in funding.

"We need to go back in the next two weeks for that $3.5 million," said Tissier. "We can bring full service back. We can keep stations open. We can keep Baby Bullet alive ... Why stop short today?"

Additional funding possibilities include funds allocated for electrification and the Dumbarton Rail Corridor, and regional money from the Metropolitan Transportation Commission for maintenance that could be converted to operating funds.

Director Liz Kniss supported the effort to find additional funds and retain service, saying, "Let's not lose what we have when we can see that there are some funding sources out there."

Director Ken Yeager said, "There is still money on the table to fill the $3.5 million gap."

Director Nate Ford cautioned that using one-time funds might "just make a deeper hole in (Fiscal Year) 2013 that will result in even more drastic cuts."

Without a dedicated source of funding, Caltrain struggles every year to put together an operating budget. Director Omar Ahmad said, "This is not a sustainable budget ... We need to put forward a budget that we can look people in the eye and say this is sustainable."

The Caltrain partners and MTC have been working with community coalitions to address the long-term funding of the rail system, which does not have a permanent, dedicated source of revenue. The Silicon Valley Leadership Group, which has made Caltrain's fiscal crisis its primary focus, is hosting a series of town hall meetings to address the problem.

The special board meeting will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday, April 21 at 1250 San Carlos Ave., San Carlos.

Caltrain
Title VI Equity Evaluation
Proposed Fare (Codified Tariff) Change – FY 2013

As a federal grant recipient, the Peninsula Corridor Joint Powers Board (JPB), which operates Caltrain, is required to maintain and provide to the Federal Transit Administration (FTA) information on its compliance with Title VI regulations. At a minimum, it must conduct periodic compliance assessments to determine whether its services are provided in a nondiscriminatory manner consistent with the law. Normally the JPB performs a self-assessment every three years, or when it undertakes a change in its fares or a significant change in service. This assessment covers the Caltrain Proposed Fare Increase which will be implemented in July 2012 (FY 2013).

Unlike the previous fare increases, this fare change is not motivated by the need to balance the fiscal budget. Rather, the primary factor in the fare change proposal is the implementation and continued refinement of the smartcard based regional fare system called Clipper® (previously TransLink). The main goals of most of the proposed changes are to increase Clipper market penetration and make it more user friendly. Based on analysis of the changes, including the Title VI analysis process and review of all received public comments, JPB staff recommended increasing paper ticket fares by $0.25 on the base, decreasing the discount offered with 8-ride tickets to 7.5 percent, increasing the cost of a GO Pass by $10 to $165 and adopting an increase in fares by $0.25 on the zone for paper tickets, if Clipper use does not sufficiently expand in one year. The proposal also includes decreasing the validity period on 8-ride tickets to 30 days, lengthening the sales period for monthly passes to last until the 15th of each month (rather than the 9th) and setting the minimum level of GO Pass participation at $13,750 per calendar year for each employer. The majority of Caltrain riders will not see any increase in their fare, as the cost of monthly passes and one-way trips paid with e-cash on Clipper cards will remain the same.

The following report provides a summary of the fare change proposal and the analysis process and results. A map of the Caltrain system can be found in Attachment 1.

1.0 PROPOSAL

The final fare change proposal was designed to encourage passengers to use Clipper and align the discount of 8-ride tickets with its level of commitment to riding Caltrain, rather than to increase revenue.

JPB Staff had initially considered elimination of the 8-ride ticket and increases to both the base and zone charge components of paper based tickets.

The fare change proposals were subject to Title VI equity studies by staff and were discussed at Public Meetings and a Public Hearing.

1.1 FARE CHANGE

The fare increase proposed for adoption by the JPB Board consisted of a 25-cent increase in base fares for paper One-way tickets and 50-cent increase for Day Pass tickets purchased from Ticket Vending Machines. This could be followed with a 25-cent increase (50-cent for Day Passes) in the zone charge for paper tickets, as of July 2013, if there is not a “significant increase” in the purchases of One-way fares with the Clipper card. A “significant increase” for this purpose means at least 50% of passenger trips using One-way tickets in a single month are paid for with Clipper e-cash.

The resulting increase in One-way and Day Pass adult fares, effective July 2012, depending on zones traveled, varies between 2.0% and 9.1%. Eligible Discount One-way and Day Pass fares will increase between 2.0% and 20.0% depending on zones traveled. The percent fare increase for some Eligible Discount fares are high because of the effect of rounding to the nearest quarter.

If the zone charge is increased in 2013 due to less than significant increase in Clipper use, the two part total fare increase will range from 9.1% to 11.8% for full fare adult One-way tickets. For Eligible Discount One-way tickets, the increase will range from 9.1% to 20.0%

The change in pricing for the 8-ride ticket will lower the effective discount from 15% to 7.5%, compared to the cost of eight One-way tickets. The resulting increase in 8-ride Ticket fares, depending on the number of zones, varies from 8.0% to 9.3% for full fare adult and from 8.1% to 9.4% for Eligible Discount.

The price for each employee annual GO Pass is proposed to be increased from $155 to $165. Monthly pass prices and prices for other Clipper based products will not increase. Staff expects this to increase Clipper use. In addition, monthly passes will be available for purchase further into each month, which staff expects may positively affect monthly pass and parking permit sales.

The fare proposal for all fare types is provided in Attachment 2-Fare Proposal.

2.0 EQUITY EVALUATION OF PROPOSED CHANGES

In order to comply with 49 CFR Part 21, grantees shall evaluate system-wide fare and major service changes to determine whether those changes have a discriminatory impact on Title VI protected classes. Agencies shall evaluate the impacts of fare and service changes using recommended equity evaluation procedures defined in circular FTA C 4702.1A, Chapter V, Section 4. A Title VI equity evaluation of the JPB's proposed changes follows.

2.1 SERVICE AREA MINORITY AND LOW-INCOME POPULATIONS

Using 2010 Census data, the minority population in all three counties in the JPB service area is 2,037,359 people, or 61.6% of the total service area population. For the JPB equity evaluation procedure, the three-county average is used as the threshold in classifying stations as minority stations; any station located in an area with a minority population above the system-wide average is considered a “minority station.” A station-by-station analysis reveals that 11 out of 31 stations in the service area are minority stations.

Note that the previous JPB procedure used the UMTA Circular 4702.1 definition of a minority transit route to define the minority status of Caltrain stations. The UMTA Circular 4702.1 defined a transit route as a minority transit route when 1/3 of the minority population along a transit route exceeded the total minority population in a service area. JPB applied this to its rail corridor by defining a station as a minority station when the population in a station area exceeded 1/3 of the total population in that area. However, the continued use of the 1/3 threshold with the 2010 US Census data resulted in only two stations being non-minority stations. Since California is unique in its high minority population, it was determined that using the three-county average as a threshold would be more contextually appropriate. JPB staff sought and received FTA approval of the new classification procedure and threshold.

A review of 2005-2009 American Community Survey data for low-income populations in the JPB service area shows that 21.8% of the population in all three counties is at or below two times the federal poverty level, which is the metropolitan planning organization’s definition for low-income populations in the Bay Area. The three-county average for low-income populations is used as the threshold in classifying stations as low-income stations. A station-by-station analysis reveals that 16 out of 31 stations in the service area have recorded low-income populations above 21.8%. In addition, the October 2010 Caltrain Onboard Study found that 28% of riders have annual household incomes of less than $50K. A summary of ridership income distribution, as found in the October 2010 and 2007 onboard surveys, is provided in the table below.

As allowed under Circular 4702.1A, Caltrain continues to define a rail system station service area as follows:

(i) for rail systems, the service area shall consist of a circle with a radius of $\frac{3}{4}$ of a mile around each station. (ii) At the end stations and other stations in outlying area, the entity may designate circles with radii of up to 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ miles as part of its service area, based upon circumstances.

The following table summarizes all Caltrain stations and their designations as minority or low-income based on 2010 U.S. Census race data and 2005-2009 American Community Survey income data. Additionally, maps provided in Attachment 3 – Minority and Low Income Maps graphically display low-income and minority census tracts and their proximity to Caltrain stations.

2.2 ASSESS EFFECTS OF PROPOSED CHANGES ON MINORITY AND LOW-INCOME POPULATIONS

JPB staff has analyzed available information from ridership surveys to determine whether minority and/or low-income riders are more likely to use the payment types or media that are subject to the potential fare changes and whether minority and/or low-income riders would experience a disparate impact.

Based on a quality of service analysis using 2010 Census and 2005-2009 American Community Survey data, staff found no disparate impacts on minority riders with the implementation of the proposed fare change.

However, the October 2010 Caltrain Onboard Survey found that in general, low income riders rode shorter distances and purchased day-of tickets at a much higher rate than non-low income riders. Proposals to increase paper One-way and Day Pass fares could result in a disparate negative impact on low-income riders.

2.2.1 Quality of Service

Following the FTA's recommended methodology, staff prepared quality of service analyses for the proposed fare change, which compared minority and non-minority station averages for total cost and cost per mile for the system's "Top Three Destinations" as defined by FTA to evaluate the potential effects of the fare change options.

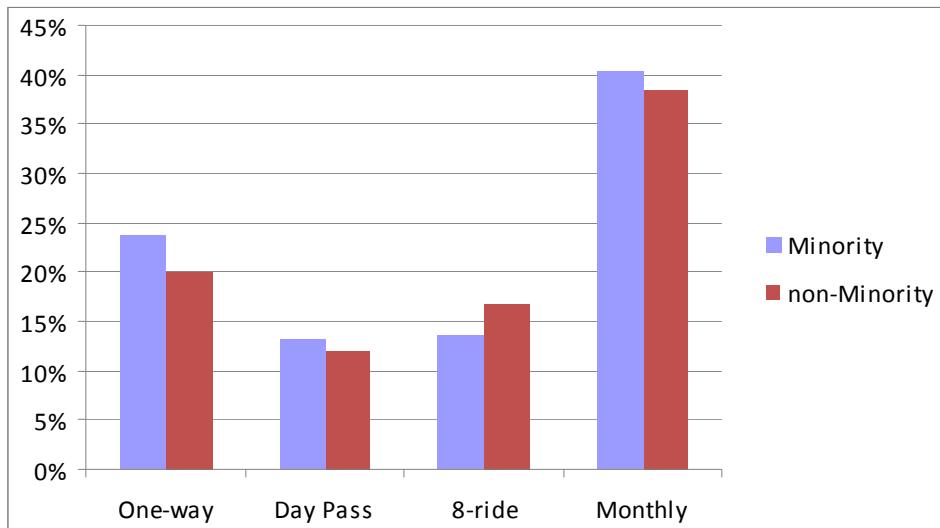

The quality of service analyses showed that for the fare change proposal, the change in the average cost per mile and total cost is lower for minority populations than for non-minority populations when the base or base and zone charge is increased. When only the zone increase is considered, the percent increase is greater for minority populations than for non-minority populations. The percent difference is, however, one-half percentage point, or less, except in the AM Cost per Mile case. In this case, a zone only increase for the AM Cost per Mile increase is 0.8 percentage points higher for minority stations than non-minority stations. Therefore, implementing a base or zone or both fare increase would not have a disparate impact on minority or low-income communities, using a station based analysis.

The most recent demographic data provided by the 2010 US Census and the 2005-2009 American Community Survey indicates that, in the Caltrain system, low-income stations mostly correlate with minority stations. Attachment 4 – Quality of Service Analysis provides a summary of this analysis.

2.2.2 Fare Structure

Minority and non-minority populations

Comparison of the rates of use by minority and non-minority populations for One-way, Day Pass, 8-ride and Monthly tickets show that while minority populations use One-way tickets at a higher rate than non-minorities (23.8% vs. 20.1%), minorities use 8-ride tickets at a rate less than non-minorities (13.6% vs. 16.7%). Minority populations use monthly passes at a slightly higher rate than non-minorities (40.3% vs. 38.5%). Minority populations also use Day Pass tickets at a slightly higher rate than non-minorities (13.1% vs. 12.0%). The following chart shows the use rate of selected fare types by minority and non-minority passengers.

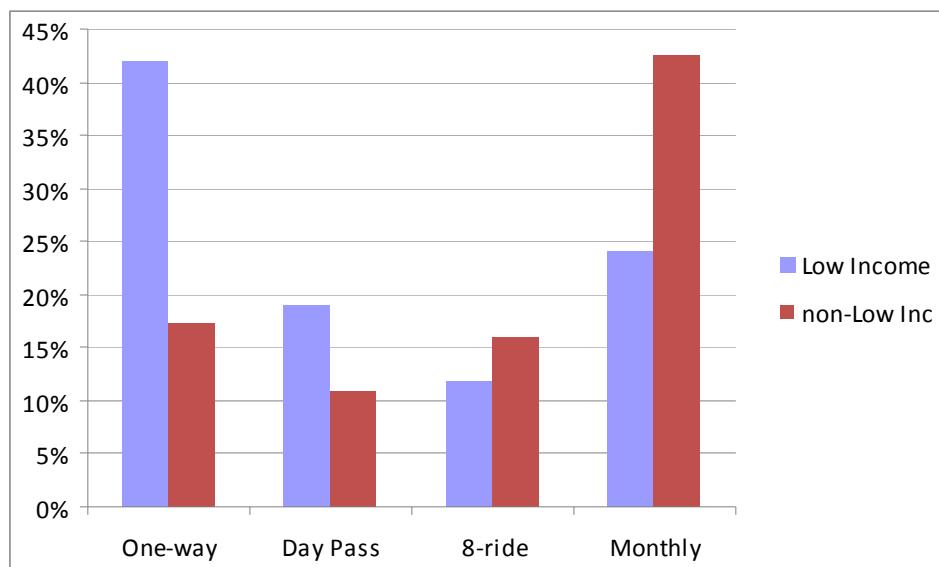

Raising prices for 8-ride, One-way and Day Pass tickets would have mixed impacts on Minority versus non-minority populations. In all cases, the difference in use among the affected fare products is less than 3.7 percentage points.

Previous findings applicable to these proposals

JPB recognizes that due to Caltrain's zonal fare structure, a fare increase on the base would disproportionately impact riders based on a) distance traveled and b) ticket type. As seen in Attachment 2 – Fare Proposal, riders traveling within one zone see a 9.1% fare increase while riders traveling six zones see a 2.0% increase.

Data from the October 2010 Caltrain Onboard Study suggests that the base fare increase may have a slightly disproportionate negative impact on low-income riders. The data reveals that lower income riders are more likely to buy One-way and Day Pass tickets rather than prepaid (8-ride and monthly) tickets. For example, 61% of riders with annual income below $30,000 purchase One-way and Day Pass tickets versus 25% of riders making over $75,000 per year. The study also suggests that low-income riders are more likely to travel shorter distances. Riders making less than $30,000 per year on average ride ~11.7 stops per trip versus 14 stops per trip by riders making over $75,000 per year. However, the difference of 2.3 stops is not large enough to concretely indicate an increase in zones traveled, and therefore in travel cost. The following chart shows the use rate of selected fare types by low income and non-low income passengers.

The numbers for minorities versus non-minorities in regards to average stops traveled per trip and type of ticket purchased are relatively equal. Based on the 2010 study, the difference between minorities and non-minorities is less than 0.5 stops for distance traveled and less than 5% for ticket type. Therefore, the fare increase due to the fare structure does not appear to have disproportionately adverse impacts on minority riders.

Low Income populations and 8-ride tickets

The above chart shows that 8-ride tickets are used by low income populations at a rate less than non-low income populations (11.8% vs. 16.0%). Therefore, decreasing the discount rate of the 8-ride ticket will not have a disproportionately adverse impact on low income riders.

Clipper market penetration

The October 2010 Caltrain Onboard Study was performed at a time when Clipper (then called TransLink) was just being rolled out to the public for use on Caltrain. While the system was fully deployed, no fare products had yet been made exclusive to Clipper and overall use of the regional fare payment system was much lower than now. The findings at the time indicate that minority populations used Clipper slightly less than non-minority populations (13.5% vs. 14.0%). The difference in usage by income was much greater, with low income populations using the card at a rate much less than non-low income populations (9.8% vs. 14.6%). The following chart shows the percent of users in each population that was using Clipper in October 2010.

Raising prices on non-Clipper products has the potential to have a disparate negative impact on low income populations, but is much less likely to have a disparate negative impact on minority populations.

Available alternatives and mitigations for the potential disparity vis-a-vis low-income riders are addressed in Section 3.2.

3.0 ALTERNATIVES TO, AND MITIGATION FOR, PROPOSED CHANGES

3.1 ASSESS ALTERNATIVES AVAILABLE FOR PEOPLE AFFECTED BY THE PROPOSED CHANGES

Alternative payment types and media are listed in Attachment 2 of this analysis. As stated above, the October 2010 Caltrain Onboard Study found that lower-income riders were more likely to both ride shorter distances and purchase One-way and Day Pass tickets.

Any passenger, including low income and minority passengers, can avoid the price increase to One-way tickets by using a Clipper card. Clipper cards are currently available with no added cost beyond a minimum purchase of $5 of product onto the card.

For those passengers whose employers do not purchase the GO Pass due to that fare medium's price increase, the option to purchase individual tickets (One-way, Day-pass, 8-ride, Monthly) remains available.

3.2 MEASURES TO MINIMIZE, MITIGATE, OR OFFSET ADVERSE EFFECTS OF CHANGES ON IMPACTED POPULATIONS

As described in Section 2.2.2, low-income riders could possibly be disproportionately negatively impacted by the fare increase due to the zonal fare structure, their high use of One-way and Day Pass tickets and their lower use of Clipper.

The Caltrain zonal fare structure provides for two fare increase options: a) increase on the base, which increases fares by the same dollar amount regardless of the number of zones traveled; and b) increase on the zone, where the increase is compounded the more zones traveled. Caltrain historically has been alternating between base and zone fare increases in order to minimize the effect on all riders. The last fare increase, implemented July 1, 2011, was a base fare increase, with a zone fare increase last implemented January 1, 2011. In addition, Caltrain historically has increased fares in $0.25 increments for simplicity for Caltrain riders purchasing tickets.

For this fare change, increasing revenue is not the primary reason for the increase. A base increase is being sought because it is the lower increase of base versus zone increases. If the lower price increase to the base is not incentive enough to increase Clipper use, then the larger zone increase will take place in one year. In any case, the price increase to One-way tickets can be avoided by passengers completely through use of Clipper.

Caltrain will engage in an outreach program to low income passengers, populations and communities. The goal of the outreach will be increase Clipper usage by low income passengers so they can avoid the price increase to One-way fares. Community Based Organizations that serve low-income groups will be targeted for the distribution of marketing materials promoting the use of Clipper. Examples of organizations to be contacted are the South of Market Employment Center in San Francisco, the North Peninsula Neighborhood

Services Center in South San Francisco and Grail Family Services in San Jose. Promotional materials and announcements for increasing Clipper usage will be distributed to include media that low-income individuals have identified in our surveys as outlets they utilize. Results of the 2013 Caltrain Onboard Passenger Survey will be analyzed to gauge the success of these efforts, as post increase and post-outreach Clipper penetration by low-income and minority populations will be able to be analyzed.

4.0 PUBLIC OUTREACH AND INVOLVEMENT ACTIVITIES

The JPB's public participation process offers early and continuous opportunities for the public (including minorities and people with low incomes) to be involved in the identification of potential impacts of proposed transportation decisions.

Efforts to involve minority and low-income populations include both comprehensive measures and measures targeted at overcoming barriers that prevent such populations from effective participation in decision-making.

In this case, comprehensive measures employed by the JPB included placing public notices for the Public Hearing and the Public Meetings on the Caltrain website (see Attachment 5), in news releases (see Attachment 6), on trains (see Attachment 7), and at stations (see Attachment 8). The following Public Meetings were held:

- San Francisco: January 24, 2012 at 6 p.m.
- Gilroy: January 24, 2012 at 6 p.m.
- San Carlos: January 25, 2012 at 6 p.m.
- Mountain View: January 25, 2012 at 6 p.m.

The Public Hearing was held on February 2, 2012 at 10 a.m. in San Carlos at the regularly scheduled JPB Board meeting.

Measures taken to overcome linguistic, institutional, and cultural barriers that may prevent minority and low-income populations from participating in decision-making included: publishing the public hearing notice and public meeting notices in English and Spanish in newspapers of general circulation and various community newspapers. The official notice (see Attachment 5) included meeting location, time, and contact information for both the Public Hearing and Public Meetings. The notice was published in:

- El Reportero (in Spanish) on January 11th and 18th;
- San Francisco Daily Journal on January 11th and 17th;
- San Mateo Daily Journal on January 11th and 17th;
- San Jose Post-Record on January 11th and 17th; and
- Gilroy Dispatch on January 13th and 17th.

The notices also included directions for submitting oral and written comments through the Caltrain website, and via email and customer service center phone lines for those unable to attend the public hearing or public meetings. All such comments are entered in the public hearing record and are accepted in all languages.

4.1 DISSEMINATION OF INFORMATION TO LIMITED ENGLISH PROFICIENT (LEP) PERSONS

The JPB's public participation process included measures to disseminate information on the proposed fare changes to LEP persons, as well as at public hearings and meetings.

Comprehensive measures employed by the JPB included publication of a Spanish language ad in the Peninsula's Spanish language paper, El Reportero, and including complete Spanish language information on all English notices. All Public Hearing and Public Meeting notices included Spanish language information. Also, as stated in the official notice, foreign language translation services are always available free of charge both for JPB Public Meetings and Public Hearings, by contacting the JPB via the contact information provided in the notice. Finally, the Caltrain Customer Service Center offers foreign language translation service via the AT&T language line, including for those wishing to provide oral comments on the fare and service proposal other than at the Public Hearing and Public Meetings

4.2 PUBLIC HEARING AND MEETING RESULTS

Over 250 comments were submitted by nearly 200 people prior to and at the public hearing. Of these comments:

- 126 (63%) were against elimination of the 8-ride ticket;
- 36 (18%) were against increasing the paper ticket fares;

A summary of the public comments is included as Attachment 9.

At the public hearing, 12 people made comments. Of these:

- 7 were against the elimination of the 8-ride ticket;
- 6 were against increasing the paper ticket fares;

No Title VI-based comments concerning effects on minority or low-income populations, or requests for language translation, were received.

As discussed above, public comments were extremely influential in the retention of the 8-ride ticket, which had been proposed for elimination but is instead being adjusted to reflect the frequency of riding Caltrain.

Caltrain Modifies Fare Change Proposal

February 24, 2012

After seeking public comment and holding a public hearing, Caltrain staff is modifying some of the proposed changes to the rail agency's codified tariff, the document that sets its fare policy, effective July 1, 2012.

Staff is recommending that the agency retain the 8-ride Ticket, which was slated for elimination, but cut its validity period and discount in half. Under the revised proposal, the ticket would be valid for 30 days and would offer customers a 7.5 percent discount off the cost of eight one-way cash fares.

The modified proposal also recommends increasing the cost of paper One-way and Zone Upgrade tickets by 25 cents on the base fare and Day passes by 50 cents on the base fare, with the understanding that the cost of a One-way ride will remain unchanged for those using a Clipper® card. Day passes are not available on Clipper. Monthly Pass prices will remain unchanged.

However, staff also is recommending that the Board authorize an increase to the cost of the paper One-way and Zone Upgrade tickets by 25 cents on the zone fare and Day passes by 50 cents on the zone fare effective no sooner than July 1, 2013 if a significant movement from paper tickets to Clipper has not occurred by March 1, 2013. A "significant movement" means at least 50 percent of passenger trips using One-way tickets in a single month are paid for with Clipper e-cash.

The proposal includes two items that weren't modified:

- Increase the cost of the Go Pass by $10 to $165, and increase the minimum level for employer participation at $13,750 per calendar year.
- Lengthen the sales period for monthly transportation passes and parking permits by six days so that the sales period will end on the 15th of each month.

The recommendations will be presented to the Caltrain Board of Directors at its monthly meeting March 1 at 10 a.m.

Staff developed the proposed changes to meet the responsibilities placed on Caltrain by Metropolitan Transportation Commission Resolution 3866 and upon consideration of customer comments and analysis of customers' fare media usage. The proposed changes to paper ticket prices are intended to incentivize use of the Clipper fare payment system, which has been the focus of significant regional investment over the past several years.

Nearly 185 people provided comments prior to and at the public hearing. All comments were taken into consideration as staff developed the final proposal.
